USPA NEWS - The 71st regular session of the General Assembly of the UN was officially opened Tuesday, September 20, 2016 in New York in the US. The Secretary General of the Ban Ki-moon called on heads of state to serve the people and recalled the disastrous situation of Syria conflict.

The 71st regular session of the General Assembly of the UN was officially opened Tuesday, September 20, 2016 in New York in the US. The Secretary General of the Ban Ki-moon called on heads of state to serve the people and recalled the disastrous situation of Syria conflict.-----

The general debate of the regular session of the General Assembly of the United Nations began Tuesday in New York under the chairmanship of Fijian Peter Thomson. The Burkina Faso through his megaphone Roch Marc Christian Kaboré, delivered his message on Wednesday 21 September. As every year, the Secretary General of the UN Ban Ki-moon, spoke for a tour of world events, successes and failures of the United Nations Organizations (UNO). The most burning issue is that of wandering refugees in parts of the World, the migration crisis in Europe, mainly fleeing armed conflicts, the most obvious being that of Syria. For him, "there is no military solution." The future of Syria can not rest on the fate of one person, said Ban Ki-moon.

After outlining the progress made in the implementation of the Millennium Development Goals, he deplored the situation of poverty and misery that are still living populations.-----

Faced with this situation, "there is only one solution: the implementation of the SDO (Sustainable Development Goals)," said Ban Ki-moon. "It is time to take head-on the challenges of our people. We have no time to lose," he insisted.

And regarding the issue of climate change, he urged States to bring into force, the Paris agreement before the end of this year. He deplored the conflicts, threats, violent extremism, the conflict in Syria, and many other problem areas which are found linked to the same global concern: ensuring the sustainability of peace and stop armed conflict disastrous.
